

Suggested Dock or Deck Mount Application

In addition to ground set installation, you can easily attach to your pier dock or deck by purchasing (2) metal fasteners that will fit around a 2" diameter flagpole and attach to the vertical surface securely with stainless steel bolts. You can purchase these metal fasteners in the hardware or plumbing department of any home center. (See the illustration below/ Fig. 1)

Since there are many styles and heights of docks and decks, our option is recommended for attachment to a vertical surface. This flagpole set is designed and tested for use at 20' above ground level. Second story deck installation is not recommended. Caution: Use extreme caution when installing flagpole near overhead power lines. Make sure your flagpole, when installed, will allow the flag to fly freely avoiding rough surfaces, tree branches, wires, cables, etc.

1. Drill a 1/4" hole in PVC sleeve approximately 1/2" from the bottom end of the sleeve on both sides. Insert a 1/4" carriage bolt through hole and fasten securely with a nut. Bolt serves as a stop bolt to support pole within sleeve. (See Fig. 2)
Note: Another option is to use a PVC end cap as an alternative to the cross drilled hole and stop bolt. The end caps could be purchased in the plumbing department of your local home center store.
2. Determine the points where you will be anchoring the sleeve to the vertical surface. Before securing the fasteners to surface, use a level to make sure the pole is completely vertical. Attach metal fasteners securely on top and bottom of sleeve. Fasteners should be kept as far apart (approximately 1/2" from top and bottom of sleeve) as possible. We suggest using stainless steel bolts for longest life and appearance. (See Fig. 3)
3. Place tapered bottom pole section (K) into sleeve first. Then assemble other pole sections as necessary.
4. Continue assembly of the flagpole according to normal flagpole installation instructions shown on back of box.
